

18 Year LAPD Veteran and Student Safety Expert
- Reveals 5 Assumptions Parents Make That Puts Their Children in Danger

With tremendous energy, enthusiasm, real world experience and profound law enforcement insight, Author of "The Student Safety Tips Series & The Parent's Guide for Raising Safer K-12 Students" tells your audience:

- 3 reasons why telling students not to talk to strangers could get them abducted
- 2 reasons why the buddy system has the potential to backfire
- 4 reasons why telling children to be safe online can increase their changes of danger
- 5 reasons why Teen Dating Violence & Awareness MUST be taught in Every U.S. High School.
- 5 on & off campus scams – predators use to annihilate college students
- 8 things that they can do right now, to motivate their children to be safe

According to the National Center for Education, in one recent year, 628,200 Students were victims of violent crimes.

No school is 100% safe proof. Many of those crimes consisted of child abduction, sexual crimes, kidnapping and crimes that came about through internet predatory.

What About Internet Crimes?

"With over One Million Internet Predators diligently searching MySpace, Facebook and other sites, disguising themselves as little children & teenagers, our students need an entirely new set of tips."

CREDENTIALS: For more than 27 years, Newsom as an LAPD officer, student safety expert and protective service specialist has dedicated his life and career to protecting and serving those in the community. Although his Student Safety Series were just released, August of 2008, he and his books have already been featured on CBS Talk Radio, UCLA's Daily Bruin News, Arkansas' 105.7 – The Fix Radio Talk Show and Holder Tonight News Talk Show in Montreal Canada.

He is the author of THE PARENT'S GUIDE FOR RAISING SAFER K-12 STUDENTS and STUDENT SAFETY TIPS, a series of workbooks for elementary, middle, high school and college students.

"Student Safety Tips" (elementary books are available for $6.99, middle school - college books are available for $8.99) by visiting: www.StudentSafetyTips.com

FREE GIFT: As a Special Gift, for a limited time, Tony Newsom is giving his book, "The Parent's Guide For Raising Safer K-12 Students" away for Absolutely FREE: This Incredible Ebook has over 120 pages that helps parents motivate their children to avoid potential dangers caused by Internet Predators, Child Abductors, Home Invaders, Rapist and variety of other criminals.